Healing Nature

In deference to nature and with pure intention, we have developed an exceptionally efficient and timeless concept to regenerate the body and balance the mind. We perceive the human body as a whole. There is neither health nor illness in it. There is just harmony and disharmony. We look for the causes of imbalance and restore the natural strength and vitality of the body by gently influencing it.

All of our products are made with a profound sense of responsibility, using the latest knowledge of phytotherapy, aromatherapy and homeopathy while respecting the principles of Traditional Chinese medicine.

Our foundational offer consists of unique products developed according to the highly effective method of what we call The Five Element Regeneration®. These are five preparations representing the five basic elements: Wood, Fire, Earth, Metal and Water. Although each of them focuses on particular areas of the human body, these products complement and balance each other and, all together, they constitute a system for an efficient regeneration of the body in a holistic way.

Energy is about joy. About feeling good, sharing experiences, offering a broad platform of ideas, and trying to do things better and more honestly. Energy is about the desire to discover and the courage to overcome stereotypes, about curiosity and the determination to find a path to ourselves and others.

The Five Element Regeneration® - herbal concentrates

The Five Element Regeneration® – the herbal concentrates are the cornerstone of our philosophy. They're based on a holistic approach, respecting the fact that body and mind are interconnected. They are based upon the ancient Yin-Yang theory and the theory of five elements, updated by the latest knowledge of modern science. The preparations operate on two main levels: Through phytotherapy, they harmonize individual body organs, and, through homeopathic components, they act upon the controlling subcortical centers in the brain and influence the very source of a disease.

These five herbal concentrates are composed to correspond to the energies of the five basic natural elements and to help bring all life processes in the body into a balanced state: Vironal – Metal, Regalen – Wood, Renol – Water, Gynex – Earth, Korolen – Fire.

These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drugs Administration. These products are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease. Statements provided are EFSA compliant.
